Council Seeks New Ruling On USDA Wetlands Impact

by Virginia Beauchamp

An item on the agenda for the regular Greenbelt City Council meeting on September 9 turned into the occasion for council to revisit the issue of construction of a new U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Complex off Sunnyside Avenue. The specific agenda item was to set a time and date for a new meeting with representatives of environmental groups to discuss the project.

But before council looked at this specific task, Councilmember Rodney Roberts exploded: "It's obvious this project is not going to stop," he said. "The foundation is in place. We should redirect our energies to discourage this kind of poor planning in the future."

Councilmember Thomas White deflected the discussion, however, by asking what Hurricane Fran had done to Indian Creek, the stream that crosses Sunnyside between the railroad track and Edmonston Rd. "I think we should continue to object strenuously," he said. "It was a stupid decision. There will be a significant destruction of the natural environment as the project develops."

He suggested sending a letter to the Beltsville Agricultural Research Center (BARC) to inquire what kinds of parasitic agents or organisms might be disinterred in the projected widening and grading of Edmonston Rd. between Cherrywood and Sunnyside. (A fenced-off facility devoted to animal parasites is located on the east side of Edmonston just north of the Cherrywood intersection.) "A very large federal government and state roads department are getting away with murder," he said, "and only Greenbelt is objecting." He urged that a copy of the letter be sent to the office of the governor.

Councilmember Judith Davis agreed. "I want us to keep working with our environmental experts," she said. "We need to keep their feet to the fire," referring to the USDA officials who had approved the project. "A year from now they will propose a whole new parking lot and 'improvements' on Sunnyside. We need to be constantly one step ahead."

Councilmember Edward Putens said the proposed letter should include a couple of sentences dealing with plans for the Inter-county Connector (ICC) and the future of Kenilworth Avenue. "Has anyone gone out and looked at the area to be disturbed?"

Environmental Scrutiny
In answer to Putens' question,

City Attorney Robert Manzi indicated that a consultant hired by the city had met with a counterpart representing USDA and that some disagreement existed concerning the extent of the boundary of the property being looked at. He was sure that the consultant would be willing to walk through the land with councilmembers.

Quoting Representative Steny Hoyer that the development should "surpass the letter of the law" (in regard to environmental impact), Manzi suggested that the Army Corps of Engineers might revisit the issue "if we can show that plans involve more than they say they are." The Corps had looked at only the site itself, Manzi said. They had not approved changes to Sunnyside, which was not in the site plan presented to them.

Continuing in this vein, Manzi reminded council that the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) specifically says that planners "may not piecemeal projects." He suggested that it would be good for council to take a walk through the area under discussion.

Davis commented that the city needs a definition of "wetlands"—that what constituted

New Police Substation Opens in Greenbelt East

by Virginia Beauchamp

"It looks like it will turn out very well for everybody," said Sheldon Goldberg of Windsor Green at the regular Greenbelt City Council meeting on September 9. He was summing up the just-completed action by council to finalize plans for a Greenbelt East police substation.

"A larger police presence has been discussed for a number of years by GEAC," he noted, using the acronym for the Greenbelt East Advisory Committee. Council had just approved the design for a 2-foot by 5-foot flat wall sign to be installed on the east facade of the Windsor Green clubhouse, where space has been donated for the facility. In green letters on a white background the sign reads: Greenbelt Police. In smaller letters underneath are the words: Greenbelt East Substation.

In anticipation of the September 19 dedication of the facility, Davis commented that the office is "very drab. It needs something—perhaps a map."

"How about a wanted poster?" asked White, chuckling.

Mayor Antoinette Bram reassured the other members about the appearance of the facility. "The police tend to be decorative," she said.

Other Actions

While reacting favorably to a request from the greater Washington Council of Governments (COG) that the city send a representative to its committee on air quality, individual councilmembers felt already overloaded in their responsibilities to attend meetings. Wondering if COG would accept an appointed or staff person, other than a councilmember, to take on this job, council directed interim City Manager Michael McLaughlin to inquire into these possibilities.

Council also approved a bid of $23,000 from Mid-Atlantic Waste Systems of Easton for purchase of a new leaf vacuum. The present machine, which is 10 years old, is expensive to maintain. It will later be sold.

As usual, the city took no position on two requests for liquor licenses. One, by the Hunan Restaurant in the Greenway Shopping Center, had been resubmitted after a June hearing. The other was for a license transfer by the new Musahi Japanese Steakhouse in the Beltway Plaza.

Davis was appointed voting delegate and White and Councilmember Edward Putens alternates for the 1996 Congress of Cities.

Pageant Winners Poised To Represent Greenbelt

by Konrad Herling

What's it like to win the prize of the Labor Day Pageant? Charlene Kim (sponsored by Nation Bank) covered her face in amazement and cried when she found out she had just been selected as "Little Miss Greenbelt." Her mom, Mi Kim probably reacted even more strongly, as she jumped up and down for seconds, seconds which may have seemed like hours of joy. Kelly White (sponsored by Greenbelt Mobil) also covered her tears of joy as months of practice came to fruition. She is the new Junior Miss Greenbelt. Miss Greenbelt Heather Villalba "couldn't believe I won" and was so excited she doesn't remember anything that happened except hugging and thanking her interpreter.

All three had previous pageant experience which helped bring out their poise and self confidence (Heather won two state pageant prizes, Kelly participated in previous Little Miss and Junior Miss programs and Charlene finished second in a field of 85 candidates competing in a Little Miss pageant held in Virginia earlier this year).

Signing was definitely "in" this year. Heather signed to the music from "Grease", and Charlene signed to the words See MISS GREENBELT page 8

New Post Office Planned, Center Office to Remain

by Betsy Likowski

Post Office officials would like a brand new and bigger post office building in Greenbelt. They are beginning the years-long process of acquiring one. City council and staff discussed this and other postal issues in a worksession on Wednesday, September 11 with local post office officials.

"Greenbelt has grown," said Greenbelt Postmaster John Hyater, and "we've really outgrown the space where we are...and need larger space for delivery and operations."

Greenbelt has a higher need than many other locales for expanded post office facilities, said Alan Grimes, Manager of Administrative Services.

The main post office would be somewhere in the 20770 zip code, which is basically Greenbelt and a few additional subdivisions. It would have the retail and delivery sections, the postmaster and staff. There would still be a post office in Roosevelt Center at which people could buy stamps and have postal boxes. "We're making money in the Roosevelt Center, so why leave?" said Hyater.

Grimes explained to council that the postal service follows a certain process in these matters. First, postal officials meet with the highest local officials to get their feelings on the issue. In Greenbelt's case the mayor and council are the highest officials. Then the postal service publicly advertises for sites for the new post office.

What is sought for the new Greenbelt post office is a three See POST OFFICE page 2

City Teenager Is Killed In Apparent Robbery

by Elaine Skolnik

A double shooting on Saturday, September 14, at 12:24 a.m., took the life of 17-year-old Troy Williams of 6214 Breezewood Court. A 16-year-old Riverdale youth, who was also wounded in the robbery incident, is in satisfactory condition in Prince George's General Hospital, where Williams died earlier. The youths did not know their assailants. Police have arrested three individuals who are now in jail. According to Greenbelt police, this is the City's first homicide in 1996.

In a press release, Greenbelt Police Officer George Mathews said the victims told police they were walking from the Beltway Plaza Mall to the 6100 block of Breezewood Drive and, as they crossed the road, they observed two individuals sitting on a fence. "After a short conversation between the suspects and victims, one of the suspects produced an unknown type of handgun and shot both victims," Mathews said. Both suspects fled the scene on foot.

Patrolling the area at the time of the tragedy was Officer Seung Lee. According to Lt. Michael D. Craddock, Lee heard one shot, turned his car around, and then saw "the muzzle flash" of a second shot and someone fleeing the scene. On the ground were the two wounded youths, who were transported to the hospital.

Greenbelt police officers, including those off duty, rushed to the scene, saturating the area. "A perimeter was set up around the main streets to seal off the area," Craddock explained, adding the K-9 unit was called in to track down the fleeing suspects.

During this operation, a Greenbelt police officer was stopped by an individual who had made contact with a Springhill Lake resident claiming he had been "robbed and shot at" in the 9100 block of Springhill Lane.

Not until police brought the person who claimed he was a victim to the police station did they realize that "things did not add up," in Craddock's words. A door-to-door check in the immediate area where he allegedly had been shot at revealed that no residents who were awake had heard gunfire. No cartridge casings were found, nor was there evidence that any bullets had struck buildings or trees, Craddock said. Police are still searching for the murder weapon.

The alleged robbery victim, 18-year-old Levi Fridy, of 6522 Columbia Terrace in Landover, was later determined to have been involved in the shooting on Breezewood Drive. He was charged with first degree murder and assault with intent to murder and held without bond following his appearance before a District Commissioner. Further investigation revealed that Fridy and 18-year-old Eric Randell Reynolds, of no fixed address, were waiting in the 6100 block of Breezewood Terrace to rob someone. Waiting in a car near the Shell Food Mart was 18-year-old Nicole Katrin Wang, also of no fixed address.

A break in the case came when Wang later called the Greenbelt Police station to inquire about Fridy. The call was traced and a location determined — the Turf Motel, on U.S. Route 1 in Laurel (Howard County). Then, Craddock observed, with the "phenomenal help" of the Howard County Police Entry Team and their Criminal Investigations Division, Reynolds was arrested "without incident" on September 15 at approximately 12:49 a.m. Wang was detained nearby after her vehicle was stopped by police.

According to a police press release, Reynolds was also charged with first degree murder and assault with intent to murder and held without bond following his appearance before a District Commissioner.

Wang was charged with accessory after-the-fact and held on $100,000 bond after appearing before a District Court Commissioner.

The case will be presented to the State's Attorney's Office for prosecution.

Troy Williams had recently moved to Springhill Lake to live with his mother. According to the Eleanor Roosevelt High School Guidance Department, he had been expected to register on Monday, September 16.

Parenting Classes

Beginning in October the Roosevelt Community of Schools and the Family Education Network will again sponsor Systematic Training for Effective Parenting (STEP) classes.

The Parenting Teens course will be offered at Eleanor Roosevelt High School, the class for Parenting Kids 5-12 at Greenbelt Elementary School and Parenting Young Children at the Frances Fuchs Early Childhood Center. Call (301) 888-1020 for details. Scholarships are available if needed.

acre site for a 15,000 square foot building. Council and staff helpfully suggested several undeveloped properties slated for possible development as potential sites for a post office. In response to a query of whether the post office could be in an existing structure, Grimes replied that it could, but the preference is to build a new structure. This is because of the post office's special needs, such as a loading dock area, large parking area, lots of maneuvering room for the customers, and having operations in one building for ease of moving the mail around. There are standard designs used for new post offices. Grimes cited the new Bowie post office as an example.

Other Issues

Hyater told council that there has been some vandalism to the delivery trucks. Most post offices have fenced in parking for the official vehicles. "I have to share the parking lot with the world," said Hyater. Vandalism to the vehicles meant money spent on repairs and preventative measures, he continued.

In response to the vandalism, surveillance videotape equipment was installed about 60 days ago for both interior and exterior viewing. There is a sign notifying the public of this and it is done 24 hours a day. The videotaping seems to help quite a lot, said Hyater, but he also would like better lighting in the area.

The postmaster said customers have complained the shrubs planted next to the Coop supermarket building are too high and should be kept at a lower height. Are people worried about people lurking behind the shrubs? asked Mayor Antoinette Bram. They may be, answered Hyater. The plantings there are two kinds of hydrangeas; American holly trees (which has leaves covered with spines); cornus stolonifera, which is cut back every year; and viburnum shrubs (which are screening a small fenced-in area). People also complain that the low white railings are a safety hazard, said Hyater. These are occasionally placed around the flower beds to keep people off the plants. Bram said the city's horticulturist will talk with Hyater on these issues.

Thanks

The Kellaher family would like to express our thanks to all those who reached out to us during this difficult period; our families, friends, neighbors and colleagues.

A special thank you to Father Crowley and parishioners of St. Hugh's Church, Sammy and Norma and fellow Legionnaires of the Greenbelt American Legion, the Knights of Columbus, and all our "Great Greenbelters."

Gene was unique and special. We will miss his love, his charm, his strength, his Irish eyes and smile, his compassion, his integrity, but most of all, we miss him. In our hearts he will always be remembered with loving thoughts and wonderful memories.

We thank you for your outpouring of sympathy and for your contributions, prayers and cards in his memory.

You have all been exceptionally supportive and your love and friendship will always be a source of strength and comfort for us.

As of 9 a.m. today (Sept. 17), the weatherman assures us the rain is on its way out - let's hope he's correct and we have our usual beautiful Fall.

You're welcome at the meeting on Sept. 25 when State Delegate James Hubbard will speak on legislative issues coming before the Assembly in Annapolis. Bring a friend if you like.

Think about the Chinese Auction which will be held on Oct. 9. There's a box in the Senior Lounge to receive any and all donations. For more info, contact Mary Gardner.

After the trip to Winchester, Va., the club offers an overnight to the Islands of New York Harbor. One stop will be the Staten Island "Greenbelt." Then Oct. 29, "Passport to History III" will include several interesting stops. See Irene Owens and her helpers at the meetings to sign up for trips.

No need to say, "Stay busy" - this reporter has eight trips between Oct. 1 and Christmas!

Have fun!

Exploring Dancing

On Friday, September 27, Nancy Havlik and her dance company, Dance Performance Group, will be the presenters at "Explorations Unlimited." The class will begin with a gentle group warm up followed by structures in which everyone dances together. The dancers will also perform excerpts from Havlik's new choreography with opportunities for class observation and comments. This session will give an insider's view of how a dance is made and the participants will have fun at the same time. Please wear loose, comfortable clothes for dancing.

"Explorations Unlimited" is a speaker series held every Friday from 1 - 3 p.m. at the Community Center. This presentation will be held in the Dance Studio. Everyone is welcome to attend and questions are always encouraged. Please call 397-2208 for information.

Learn about Spiders

Greenbelt Park presents a program, Amazing Spiders and Other Arachnids, on Thursday, Sept. 26 at 7 p.m. at the Ranger Station. Learn such things as that all spiders are venomous, but few are harmful to man, and that even though spiders have eight eyes, few can see very well. Join local naturalist Lloyd Tydings and discover the world of spiders. Live spiders will be on display.

OBITUARIES

Alfred H. Lowrey

Alfred H. Lowrey, 56, a research chemist with Naval Research Laboratory in Washington, DC for 30 years, died suddenly September 3, in Silver Spring.

Dr. Lowrey was born in Glenview, IL and had lived in Greenbelt since 1972. He received his B.S. from Stanford and his Ph.D. from Yale in theoretical chemistry.

He was Adjunct Professor at the Uniformed Services University in Bethesda, teaching graduate biophysical chemistry, and a Fellow of the Johns Hopkins University from 1980-89. In his professional career, Dr. Lowrey authored or co-authored 34 publications related to molecular structure, and was an invited speaker at conferences around the world.

Dr. Lowrey was deeply involved in experimental and theoretical studies on the effects of public health risks from environmental tobacco smoke (ETS) for over 20 years. He was co-author, with Dr James Repace, of 25 publications related to effects of ETS.

Together they calculated the first risk assessment on public smoking that showed that passive smoking caused thousands of deaths per year in the US. This cumulative research changed the nature of the public debate on effects of passive smoking in this country. He served as an expert witness on exposure to ETS in several legal actions, and he lectured in this country and abroad on this topic.

He was past Chairman of the Board at NRL Federal Credit Union, Paint Branch Unitarian Church, and the Partridgeberry school.

According to family and friends, Dr. Lowrey had a voracious interest in life. He loved cooking and entertaining, trading puns, and travel. He was committed to creating community in every group with whom he became involved.

He is survived by his ex-wife, Barbara Lowrey, of Bowie; a daughter, Kirsten (Kiki) Lowrey, Lafayette IN; a son, Jefferson Lowrey, Beloit, WI; his companion, Arabella Driscoll of Washington, DC; a sister, Lucy Jentz, Green Bay WI; and several nieces and nephews.

The family suggests that expressions of sympathy be made in the form of contributions to the American Lung Association of MD.

John Winslow Brett

John Winslow Brett, 47, of Springhill Lane died at home on September 8.

Born in Ahoskie, N.C., Mr. Brett served a tour of duty in Viet Nam. In 1976 he was graduated magna cum laude from the University of Maryland at College Park, receiving a B.S. in physics.

Mr. Brett worked for the CIA in Washington, D.C. where he was Computer Systems Program Manager. At the CIA he was with the Directorate of Intelligence.

He is survived by his wife, Janetta T. "Jette" Brett and daughter Erika Nicole Brett of the home address; mother, Dr. Mauve Brett, North Carolina; sisters, Diane Alexander and Loretta Belcher, New York; brother, Anthony H. Brett, North Carolina; many nieces, nephews, cousins and other relatives and a host of friends. His father, Dr. John W. Brett, preceded him in death.

Services were held at Hope Christian Church in College Park. Interment was in the Maryland Veterans Cemetery, Cheltenham.

The family requests that expressions of sympathy be made to the American Cancer Society.

WETLANDS

wetlands was not obvious. Apparently dry land that contains certain kinds of plants can be classified as wetlands, she said, while land lying under water may not.

"What we need is the reviewer for Greenbrook Lake," White commented, to a general laugh. He was referring to supposedly approved plans for a lake in Greenbelt East that had been turned back by a county site plan reviewer as not meeting wetlands guidelines.

"Most of the property (along Indian Creek) is so wet you'd need waist deep waders to get through there," Roberts said.

Manzi said it would be appropriate to have the consultant mark off the total extent of land to be disturbed so that council would understand the boundaries exactly.

Mayor Antoinette Bram described how the project must have developed bureaucratically. "A project like this has a life of its own," she said. "People say, 'We can't change this.' But it's never too late. If there's a way of doing it, let's do it."

Motions

The discussion resulted in approval of a course of action involving three motions, all passed unanimously: One was to send a letter to Governor Parris Glendening and to USDA, as White proposed earlier, requesting information on the types of agents and parasitic organisms to be disturbed if Edmonston Rd. is to be widened.

The second motion called for a follow-up with the Corps of Engineers concerning the extent of impact of road improvements in association with the project. The letter should express the city's concern, in reference to NEPA, that planners may be "piecemealing" the project.

The third motion was introduced by Putens following a suggestion by Manzi that the city authorize a traffic consultant to look at the traffic study and methodology used by USDA. "Are they looking at what will happen in the future?" he asked. "We haven't done that." Putens' motion called for a traffic engineer to look at the full scope of the project.

As for the agenda item that had generated the whole discussion—council decided not to schedule a meeting with the environmental groups in question "until we have more information," as a final motion by Davis put it.

Adult Care Center Sponsors Health Fair

Baptist Senior Adult Ministries will host the second annual Community Campaign for Health, Family Health Fair on Saturday, September 21, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., at the Greenbelt Adult Care Center, Greenbelt Community Center, 15 Crescent Road. The whole family is invited to participate in the various screenings that will be available. A sampling of these include screenings for audiology, mental health, osteoporosis, blood sugar levels and blood pressure testing. The fair will also feature a complimentary Health Food Bar and an "Eat Your Heart Out" healthy cooking demonstration.

Fair sponsors include Baptist Senior Adult Ministries Adult Care Centers, Rehabilitation Services, Inc., Alzheimer's Association, Overlea Caterers, Hearing Professionals, Inc., and the City of Greenbelt.

BSAM Adult Care Centers has been providing adult day care since 1975. Today it operates four such centers in Prince George's County, serving more than 130 participants daily. These medical adult care programs provide a safe environment for frail seniors. They are designed to maintain or improve the physical health, mental functioning and daily living skills of their participants. An important component of BSAM Adult Care Centers' outreach is to the family through support groups, respite care and educational events. The Family Health Fair is another way that BSAM tries to reach out to families within its communities in promoting preventive health care measures.

"Health fairs offer individuals and families an easy way to get free screenings and free information to help keep them healthy. Health fairs are also helpful in identifying health risks. Most importantly, they are fun and no appointments are necessary," says Laurie Loughney, BSAM Adult Care Centers Executive Director.

Exhibitors will be available with free information—Osteoporosis Diagnostic, American Cancer Society, American Day Treatment, PrePaid Legal Services, American Lung Association, Alzheimer's Association, Rehabilitation Services, Inc., Hearing Professionals, Inc., Woodland Job Corps, Delmarva Foundation, MediRents & Sales, Humana Gold Plus Plan, Groceries on Call, SportFit, Crestar Bank, Americair, Family & Nursing Care, Inc., Freestate Happy Wanderers Walking Club and Independence Court of Hyattsville.

For more information, please contact Michelle Cordova at (301) 507-6590.

Recovery Program For Cancer Patients

The American Cancer Society offers the Reach to Recovery visitation program for mastectomy and lumpectomy patients. Trained volunteers visit new patients and present a temporary prosthesis, exercise instructions, encouragement, and support. To request a visit or additional information, call (301) 933-9350.

Sign Language Career Courses

Continuing Education courses at Prince George's Community College will be offered for beginners through advanced students wishing to pursue interpreting for the deaf as a career.

Sign Language I & II will be offered on Mondays, Sept. 23-Nov. 11, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. on the Largo Campus and Wednesdays, Sept. 25-Nov. 13, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. at Eleanor Roosevelt High School. A Saturday session will also be offered beginning September 28 and ending November 16, from 9 a.m. to noon on the Largo Campus.

Sign Language III will be offered on Wednesdays, Oct. 2-Nov. 20, from 6:30-9:30 p.m. at Eleanor Roosevelt High School.

Sign Language III, Sign Language IV and Sign Language Interpreting Level I will all be offered on Thursdays, Oct. 3-Nov. 21, 6:30-9:30 p.m. on the Largo Campus.

Introduction to Sign Language Interpreting will be offered on Tuesdays, Oct. 1-Nov. 19, from 6:30-9:30 p.m. on the Largo Campus. For additional information and fees, call (301) 322-0056.

"Crazy for You"

The Greenbelt Recreation Department has tickets available to see "Crazy For You" at the Burn Brae Dinner Theater on October 2. Set in 1930's, a banker goes West to foreclose on a vaudeville theater. He falls in love with the daughter of the theater owner and decides to try to save the theater as gift for her. This show is all Gershwin music, and filled with singing and dancing.

Any senior citizen interested in attending must pre-register with the Recreation Department by September 20. For more information call 397-2208.

Volunteers Needed

The Senior Health Insurance Counseling and Advocacy Program of the Prince George's County Department of Family Services needs seniors to train as volunteer counselors. Four days of training about Medicare and other health insurance matters will be provided in October. Daytime availability and a car are required. For information, call 301-699-2800.

Gypsy Moth Program At Garden Club

"Dealing with the Dastardly Gypsy Moth," presented by USDA Entomologist Geoffrey White, is the title of the program at the September 25 meeting of the Beltsville Garden Club. White has been working with gypsy moths since 1991 at the USDA Agricultural Research Lab's Insect Biocontrol Laboratory. The IBL's research has been dedicated to developing biologically based control methods, for homeowners and park managers, to protect shade trees from gypsy moth damage. The program will include information on the biology of the gypsy moth, how to recognize it, and some methods of reducing damage to valuable trees.

The Beltsville Garden Club meets at 7:30 p.m. at Duckworth Special Center at 11201 Evans Trail in Beltsville. (Evans Trail is one block north of High Point High School, off Powder Mill Road.) Refreshments and door prizes will follow the meeting. For more information, call 301-490-8976.

Boy Scouts Target Drug Awareness

More than 600,000 grammar school students in 16 counties in Maryland and the District of Columbia received hospital-style identification bracelets as reminders that use of illegal drugs often results in hospital treatment.

In an effort to reduce the likelihood that students will stray into the world of illegal drugs, adult volunteers who passed out the I.D. bracelets also invited the boys to attend Join Scouting Night to be held at their schools during the week of September 15. The I.D. bracelets bear the message, "Mom and Dad: Please take me to the Cub Scout Rally at our school."

While the Scouting program has historically centered on building self-reliance, self-confidence, self-esteem and character, in recent years it has developed practical exercises to help parents communicate with their children about drugs, child abuse and other hazards of today's society.

The National Capitol Area Council serves more than 58,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and young men and women who are Explorers.

PGCC Offers Auto Courses

Learning how to repair a car can save money. Short automotive courses offered in the auto bay on Prince George's Community College's Largo Campus can get people started. Anyone who is already in the business who becomes able to diagnose braking problems, restore old cars, or replace exhaust systems will be set apart from other mechanics.

For a list of automotive classes offered this semester through the Continuing Education office, call (301) 322-0158.

MISS GREENBELT

from "May the God of Hope..." Kelly sang from Shirley Temple's "On the Good Ship Lollipop."

The last evening of the pageant comes down to how the participants respond to a question presented by Rich Lee, the program's master of ceremonies. Heather answered the question: "Some say it's a man's world. What do you think?" by asserting that women are now active in professions which used to be reserved to men: medicine, law, journalism, and others. "The opportunities are there if you work hard and play by the rules." Kelly's question dealt with recycling. She responded that it would leave the earth "cleaner and safer" that it would "save trees" and that the need to recycle becomes greater as the world population grows. Charlene was asked "What do you want to be when you grow up and why?" Charlene, at the ripe old age of eight, said she "wanted to become a nurse and help the sick."

What's in store for Greenbelt's new representatives? First, there's a variety show, "An Evening with Friends" sponsored by the Greenbelt Arts Center on October 5. Around Halloween there'll be a costume, carving and scarecrow parties and in December they'll help out the Lions Club with their Toy Drive. Of course, as is the custom, the trio will help decorate a number of trees around town during the holiday season later that month. The next year promises not to be any less hectic. But all look forward to carrying out their new duties with enthusiasm and high energy.

Other prizes associated with the pageant were "Most Spir-

City Notes

Public Works crews pruned and chipped trees and branches damaged by the recent storm and filled a sinkhole at the Hillside Road overpass. Illegal yard sale signs posted on city rights of way were taken down.

Bad soil was excavated and removed, sod placed, at the intersection of Greenbelt Rd. and Southway in preparation for landscaping.

A layer of asphaltic gravel was placed on the dirt road that runs from the end of Hamilton Place running toward Hamilton Cemetery.

Mechanic Supervisor Jim Keifline and Mechanic I Jay Leonard have passed the required tests and are now Certified Advanced Emissions Diagnostics Specialists.

GEAC Gets Update On Hanover Lighting

by Kerana Todorov

The status of various lighting projects in Greenbelt East was the main focus of the Greenbelt East Advisory Committee (GEAC) meeting, held Thursday, Sept. 5 at Windsor Green.

Prince George's County Councilmember Audrey Scott, Greenbelt Mayor Antoinette Bram, City Councilmembers Judith Davis, Edward Putens and Thomas White, and the director of the Greenbelt Department of Planning and Community Development, Celia Wilson, came to discuss the status of the street lights at Hanover Parkway.

Treasurer Charlene McAdams explained that GEAC's forcefulness in seeking an explanation for the slow progress was because of the danger bad lighting caused. McAdams said that it was important to get some lighting along Hanover to protect the public, such as people waiting for the bus before daybreak.

In a memo to GEAC Chair Sheldon Goldberg, Wilson detailed the chronology of the lighting project. Wilson said the city promptly requested the projects from PEPCO. However, the company, which is to carry out the plans, has run into problems. For example, a WSSC 96-inch water pipe is under the route near Hunting Ridge and Greenway Village that needs lighting. PEPCO has to get WSSC's approval to go ahead with the work.

County Councilmember Scott explained that different divisions of PEPCO handle the projects in Greenbelt East. She said that the project near Greenspring II was being handled by one working group of PEPCO. Other Greenbelt East projects were taken care of by another PEPCO branch. Wilson said that the Hanover Parkway plans called for 17 lights, 170 feet apart. Each pole will be 25 feet tall, with six foot long arms. Also, there should be five new lights on Ora Glen Drive.

GEAC will meet next on Oct. 3, at 7:30 p.m. at Greenbriar.

Recycling Corner

Recycling Coordinator Jennifer Foley has begun a fluorescent light tube and ballast collection program for city facilities to keep heavy metal contaminants out of the landfill waste stream.

Our sympathy to Janetta T. "Jette" Brett and her daughter Erika on the recent death of her husband and Erika's father, John Winslow Brett.

Greenbelters were saddened to hear of the death of Dr. Al Lowery, a long time resident of Greenbelt.

Best wishes for a speedy recovery to News Review staffer Mary Moien of Woodland Way, who is recovering from surgery.

Camren Christian Sonneveldt arrived on August 29 weighing 8 pounds 1 1/2 ounces. He is the son of former Greenbelters Steffan and Juliet Sonneveldt, who live in Edgewater. Proud grandparents Bob and Betty Sonneveldt and proud aunt Emily live on Lakeside Drive.

Saturns are so reasonably priced and shopping is so relaxed and pressure-free that Ricky and Phillipa Robertson, proud new Saturn owners, actually enjoyed the whole experience. In fact, at Saturn of Bowie, our cars pretty much have the reputation for selling themselves. But, please do us a favor, humor our sales consultants just a little, will you? It makes them feel good. Hope to see you soon.

Now open for service, too. Call for appointment.

POLICE BLOTTER

Based on Information Released by the Greenbelt Police Department

Two men are sought in connection with a stabbing, which occurred during a fight on Sunday evening, September 8 in a parking lot in Beltway Plaza. Earlier that evening, one of the men got into an argument with an employee of a store in the mall. The suspect got into another argument later as he was leaving the store. The employee and his brother also employed at the store went out to the parking lot. One of the suspects got into a fistfight with one of the brothers, then pulled a knife, and stabbed one brother in the back, then slashed the other's back. The assailant got into a vehicle, described as either a tan late 80's Chevrolet Caprice, or a maroon or red Buick four-door, along with the second man who had been watching the fight.

The suspects are described as: 1) a black man, 19 to 22 years old, 6'2", 160 lbs., with black hair and a medium complexion, wearing a blue baseball cap, dark blue shorts and brown boots; and 2) a black man, 19 to 22 years old, 5'10", with a medium build, wearing metal frame glasses.

One of the victims was admitted to Doctor's Hospital for treatment of the stab wound and the second was treated and released.

A man, walking home from the Shell Food Mart, 8007 Breezewood Drive, on Monday afternoon, September 9, was approached by another man who punched him in the face and stabbed him. Two other men appeared, one of whom produced a knife and stabbed the victim. The third assailant, who was carrying a large black revolver, punched the victim in the face. The men took the victim's wallet and fled on foot in an unknown direction. The victim was transported by ambulance to Prince George's General Hospital where he was treated for his wounds.

The suspects are described as: 1) an Hispanic man, about 25 years old, 5'6", with a muscular build, long black hair, wearing dark clothing, armed with a knife; 2) a black man, about 28 years old, 5'8", with a heavy build, close cropped black hair, wearing dark clothing, armed with a handgun; and 3) a black man, about 23 years old, 6'1" with a muscular build, bushy hair, wearing dark clothing and armed with a knife.

The School Resource Officer was patrolling the 7400 block of Frankfort Drive on Wednesday afternoon, when he located two youths he suspected of being truant. The officer detected the odor of what he believed to be marijuana. Both youths were found to have cigars commonly used to smoke marijuana in their possession. The youths were arrested, charged with possession of paraphernalia, released to school officials pending action by the Juvenile Justice System, and their parents notified.

A report of an adult buying beer for minors resulted in an officer responding to the 6000 block of Greenbelt Road on Tuesday evening, September 10. The officer observed two youths, both 17 yr. old residents, in possession of beer. The adult was not located. The youths were arrested, charged with possession of an alcoholic beverage by a minor, and released to guardians pending trial.

Two 14-year-old youths were assaulted on Saturday afternoon, September 7, as they were distributing flyers in the 6000 block of Springhill Drive. They were approached by one suspect who began yelling at them and punching them. Another suspect joined the first and began punching the second youth. The first youth was able to run to a nearby store and asked someone to call the police. Both suspects fled the scene on foot. The suspects are described as: 1) a black male, 15 to 17 years old, 5'10", 160 lbs., black hair, dark complexion, wearing a white T-shirt and shorts; and 2) a black male, 15 to 17 years old, 5'7", 180 lbs., black hair, a dark complexion, wearing a white T-shirt and jeans.

One of the victims was transported by ambulance for treatment of facial lacerations. The other was not injured.

A man was assaulted near a temporary classroom at Eleanor Roosevelt High School on Tuesday morning, September 10. As the man was walking, he was approached by another man who asked for a dollar. He responded that he didn't have one, and as he walked by the other man he was punched in the mouth. The man reported the incident to school administrators.

Later Tuesday, September 10, another assault was reported at Eleanor Roosevelt High School. A student was walking down the hallway past the suspect when the suspect punched him in the mouth, for no apparent reason chipping a tooth. The suspect is described as a black male, 16 - 17 years old, 5'10" to 6'0", with a large build and possibly a bald head, wearing a white shirt, jeans, a black baseball cap, and holding a black sweatshirt.

An officer on bike patrol in the 6100 block of Breezewood Court on Wednesday evening, September 11, noticed a juvenile smoking a cigarette. The 15-year-old resident youth was arrested, charged with possession of tobacco. The youth was released to his father on a juvenile civil citation pending action by the Juvenile Justice System.

Two youths were arrested on Thursday morning, September 12, for fighting inside a classroom at Eleanor Roosevelt High School. The youths, a 14-year-old resident and a 15-year-old nonresident, were charged with disturbing school activities and released on citation pending action by the Board of Education.

Several walkway lights in the front yard of a residence in the 6600 block of Springcrest Drive, were vandalized on Thursday, September 12, around 10:40 p.m.

Thefts and Burglaries

An officer patrolling the 9300 block of Edmonston Road around 4 p.m. on Tuesday, September 10, stopped a vehicle for a traffic violation. A Taurus 9mm semi-automatic handgun was located under the driver's seat. A computer check listed the handgun as having been reported stolen to Prince George's County Police. The driver, an 18-year-old nonresident man, was arrested and charged with transporting a handgun in a vehicle and unlawful possession of a stolen handgun. The man was held on $1,500 bond pending trial.

An officer responded to the 7500 block of Greenway Center Drive on Friday morning, September 6, on a report of a theft in progress.
